

School of Medicine
Professional Development Seminar

All persons interested in the topic are invited to attend.

Looking Out for Number One!

Monday, February 6, 2012
12 - 1:15 p.m.
Molecular Medicine Research Bldg., Room 1011

John F. Butterworth, IV, M.D.

Professor and Chair
Department of Anesthesiology
VCU School of Medicine

As a result of attending this professional development seminar, the participant will:

- appreciate the conflict between personal career goals and the goals of mentors, departments, the school, and other entities;
- be able to explain the importance of time management in a successful career;
- learn approaches to request needed “forms of mentorship” from those capable of advancing his or her career.

Lunch provided with RSVP by Thursday, February 2.
