October 23, 2014

Dear Program User,

The following updates were deployed to the web-based PDWS this morning, October 23, 2014:

1. Unable to click the “Go” button on the Bulk Actions: Users of older versions of Internet Explorer (IE) were not able to select the “Go” button when trying to implement a Bulk Action. This issue is now corrected.

2. Unable to print “View/Print Schedule”: Users attempting to print interview schedules for a large number of applicants were timing out. We’ve increased the timeout parameters on the report to provide additional processing time to render the request.

3. USMLE Pass/Fail displays: We’ve been working with the NBME to streamline the USMLE indicators provided when they release scores to us. We have aggregated them to display only Pass or Fail, according to the USMLE Board’s specifications. This should make it easier for you to simplify your filters, in particular; but you will see the change in other areas of the application as well.

We continue to deliver updates and improvements to the system in an effort to provide a better user experience for you. Please contact us for technical assistance or to provide feedback at erashelp@aamc.org or 202-828-0413.

Regards,

B. Renee Overton
