Appeal of a Course Grade: Students that believe there was an error in recording of a course grade should discuss the possible error with the relevant course director or, if there are extenuating circumstances, their program director.

Students should see the VCU Bulletin for additional information.

Approved by the School of Medicine Graduate Programs Committee: pending