

School of Medicine
Professional Development Workshop

Facilitating Skills for Small Group Teaching

When to teach in small groups • Group facilitation skills
• Tips to address common problems

All members of the VCU community are invited. RSVP by Monday, December 9.
Lunch provided with RSVP at <https://redcap.vcu.edu/rc/surveys/?s=gchj3JLq2V> or Debbie Stewart, dstewart@vcu.edu, 8-6591.

Wednesday, December 11, 2013
12:00 - 1:30 p.m.
McGlothlin Medical Education Ctr. (MMEC)
3rd Fl., Room 3-101

Terry Carter, Ed.D.
Associate Dean for Professional
Instruction and Faculty
Development

Kathy Kreutzer, M.Ed.
Assistant Dean for Faculty
Development

As a result of participating in this workshop, you will be able to:

- Explain why small group teaching is effective;
- Better determine which activities work best for small group learning formats;
- Describe basic group facilitation skills that support effective learning;
- Use tips to overcome some common problems in small group dynamics.

VCU

This workshop is sponsored by the Office of Faculty Affairs, School of Medicine, VCU Medical Center.