Welcome to the VCU Health family from VCU Health Continuing Medical Education (CME)!
We are here to help you continue your medical education and stay up-to-date in your chosen field of practice.

The Virginia Board of Medicine requires sixty credits every two years and requires two CME credits in opiate prescribing. MCVH credentialing requires CME credit numbers every two years. Keeping track of all your credits can feel daunting, but don’t worry, we have your transcripts!

VCU Health CME serves faculty and staff at VCU Medical Center, McGuire Veterans Affairs Hospital, and other regional, national, and international organizations. We provide access to a wealth of educational programming including workshops and conferences, regularly scheduled case conferences, Grand Rounds, M&M, and Tumor Board activities; as well as online on-demand courses.

Learn more about currently available programs at cme.vcuhealth.org.

VCU Health CME is an ABMS Portfolio Sponsor, approved to provide MOC Part IV credit for twenty one participating boards. The streamlined process provides credit for performance improvement projects that are planned, in progress, or completed at VCU Health Medical Center. Every board has different requirements for credits and timing, our office can provide guidance and credits for all boards, except Colon and Rectal Surgery, Nuclear Medicine, and Neurosurgery.

Additionally, we can provide MOC Part II for Internal Medicine, Pediatrics, and Anesthesiology in conferences and Grand Rounds.

Interested in MOC?
Contact Wendi Martin, Administrative Assistant | VCU Health Continuing Medical Education
804.828.3640 | wendi.martin@vcuhealth.org

Contact Linda Meloy, MD, Medical Director | VCU Health Continuing Medical Education
linda.meloy@vcuhealth.org

In addition, VCU Health CME provides event planning and educational design consultation services to internal and external planning partners. If you have an idea for an educational conference that fulfills a need in the medical education conference landscape, contact us and we will help you make it a reality.

Looking to create a conference or serve as a speaker?
Contact Andrea Perseghin, Director | VCU Health Continuing Medical Education
804.828.5412 | andrea.perseghin@vcuhealth.org